

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

From this chapter, the research gave the conclusion between reading comprehension and translation ability in SMP Islam Al Mukmin at seven grades in the following

A. Conclusion

Reading comprehension and translation ability are very important for students. There is always a necessary connection between the reading comprehension and the students' translation ability.

This research had a goal of finding whether there was a correlation between the reading comprehension and the students' translation ability or not. In attempt to obtain the intended data, the researcher arranged the reading comprehension test to measure the students' reading comprehension and translation test to measure the students' translation ability.

After conducting the research, the researcher provides the conclusion as follows:

1. Based on the results of the study entitled the relationship between reading comprehension and translation ability in the seven grade students of SMP Islam Al Mukmin these results mean that there is a correlation between the two variables. H_a is accepted and H_o is rejected, which implies there is a relationship between reading comprehension and translation ability.

2. The researcher used the pearson product moment coefficient correlation is 0,677 which means the relationship between reading comprehension and translation ability in this research is has a high correlation.

B. Suggestion

Based on the result of research and observations of the seven grade students at SMP Islam Al Mukmin, the researcher would like to give some suggestion as follow:

1. For the students

The students should more active to use English in their daily life. Not only with the teacher, but also with friends or from the music English.

Because language is skill and skill need more practice. For specific, the students should read as much as possible in order to enrich their knowledge and improve their reading comprehension and translation ability.

2. For the other researcher

The next researcher must have strategies and preparation tasks that are better suited to the condition of students before teaching and learning in the classroom. The researcher realizes that there are still many short comings in this thesis. So, researchers hope that other researchers can improve it. This research is expected to provide information or references to improve reading comprehension and translation ability.

3. For the school

To the school would like to give more attention to the students increasing their English skill. Making English community, add the material and facilities to make the students comfort in learning process.

