

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

After analyzing the previous chapter, the writer can conclude that the data taken from Pride and Prejudice novel by Jane Austen. Social Conflict has the important point in the human survival to communicate with each other. Meanwhile, social conflict in the Pride and Prejudice novel by Jane Austen based on society in England as the result of Industrialization in the late eighteenth century.

Based on the analyzing of the data about social conflicts in Pride and Prejudice Novel by Jane Austen, the research concluded that:

1. Social conflicts which are divided into a conflict involving social position, conflict of interest, and conflict of role, all are portrayed in Pride and Prejudice novel by Jane Austen.
2. Most of the conflicts involving social position happened in the Bennets family which occurred between Elizabeth with her mother, caused by marriage without love. Besides, conflicts involving social position also occurred between lower class people and middle class people in the 18th century.
3. The most conflict of interest happened between Elizabeth and Mr. Collins, and Mr. Wickham and Lydia because their materialism and assumption that marriage makes her have a better financial.

B. Suggestion

After analyzing this research completely, the writer expects this paper can be useful to provide enough information for the next researcher who wants to have similar and better research. The writer also expects that the English learners to learn, analyze, and understand the Social Conflict as representation about sociological literature.

Hopefully, this research can open their mindset that analyzing Literature especially the sociology of literature is not as difficult as she thought. Moreover, analyzing social conflict can be very helpful to comprehend human interaction in the society.

For the campus, it is expected that the library can provide more references regarding sociological of literature so that it can help next researcher to find the source easily for their research. After analyzing this research completely, the writer expects this paper can be useful to provide enough information for the next researcher who wants to have similar and better research.