

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. CONSLUSION

There are 21 analyzing data in the previous chapter before. It can be concluded that there are language acquisition and human language. That can be found in the movie of Tarzan 1999. The writer focused on finding language acquisition and human language of the appearance of the cast movie of Tarzan 1999. Here it is concluded by considering all things that matter, as follow:

1. The research is about to find the behaviorism and nativism that exist in the movie of Tarzan 1999. The writer has found data which has been 21 which are 11 data of behaviorism and 10 data of nativism from the main cast of Tarzan 1999's scene.
2. The writer want to find the human language, but must of them are verbal communication about 12 data. Another human language is non-verbal communication that the writer could found about 9 data from the research.
3. The writer also identify the process of Tarzan's language acquisition. It is more like human language because of what and its relevancy to the psycholinguistic of language acquisition by B.F Skinner and Chomsky which the writer has as the main theories.

4. This research is a chance for the writer to dig deeply her potential in learning something new, especially about human language that can be found in our life.
5. The writer can gain new information, knowledge, and friends while in the time of doing this research. It has been passed by the writer during all along the time in working this research.
6. The writer knows about how important learning about human is, because to know something new, especially about sciences that never known before. The writer also must read a lot.

B. SUGGESTION

There are many suggestion of this research that the writer draw about after analyzing and giving conclusion about language acquisition process and kinds of verbal and non-verbal communication as human language in the movie of Tarzan 1999. So that it can be helpful for everyone who read this research.

1. For the writer

It is important to give a new experience to analyze language acquisition and human language as verbal and non-verbal communication or appearance of the cast in the movie of Tarzan 1999. It makes the writer understand about psycholinguistic especially not only about language acquisition by B.F Skinner and Chomsky but also verbal and non-verbal communication by Addler and Proctor that one of theorist in human language. The study of language acquisition is really help the writer to understand the possible language acquisition that appear in real life and possibility to interpret it.

2. For the lectures

This research can be helpful source that can be used for sharing in knowledge. Hopefully, this field of study can be learned by students of English Literature in STBA – JIA.

3. For the readers

We cannot be separated from reading as social humans. Although, sometimes reading is a very boring activity, but there will be a lot of knowledge from it that are important for study and to our life. Therefore, start to like reading especially read this research that can help us well to understand about humans in psychology subject by answering and explaining the questions of the research and finding out the solution.

The psycholinguistic and analysis in this research will also make the readers curious to read because psycholinguistic is the study of human beings which is also fun from other study. The readers also get mutual benefits of getting information about language acquisition and verbal and non-verbal communication in psycholinguistic study. This research will make them aware about language acquisition around them as they do their daily activity.