

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

Based on the findings and discussion in Chapter IV, some conclusions can be drawn related to the formulations of the problem and objectives of the study stated in Chapter I. The researcher formulates the conclusions as mentioned in the following points:

1. The functions of using repetition in song lyrics are as follows:
 - a. To give emphasize of certain words/phrase.
 - b. To give a melodious and harmonic sounds in audience/listener's ear.
 - c. To make the ideas more memorable for audience/listener.
 - d. To boost the emotion, mood and sense of the audience/listener.
 - e. To connect the listener/audience with the subject matter.
2. The type of repetition which used in Rendy Pandugo's selected songs are:
 - a. Repetition of words: Anaphora, Epistrophe, Symploce, Anadiplosis, Antistrophe and Homoioteleuton.
 - b. Repetition of sounds: Alliteration, Assonance and Consonance.
3. From 6 selected of Rendy Pandugo's songs, mostly has masculine rhymes and its combination (Masculine and Feminine). Masculine rhyme in here will give an emphasize of the important words. In other hand, “The Journey” mostly has perfect rhyme composition. Perfect rhyme is used to please the ear of every audiences/listener.

B. Suggestion

The writer learnt that the whole process of song lyrics interpretation itself is not an easy task. Especially, when it is associated with literature studies but it does not really matter. Instead, it is such an interesting way to study. The writer hopes that all literature students especially in English department have better understanding in every field of studies. Many cases in literature fields are found around us. With literature, everything will be uncovered surprisingly to the more comprehensive circumstances. Above all, doing this research about analyzing song lyrics is very challenging in personal. I am convinced, it would bring immense enjoyment for those who are interested.

The writer suggests to all the lecturer especially for them who teach Literature in STBA JIA - Bekasi to give more insights, motivate, and make students love this field of study by giving interesting literary subject. So, it will create the class more enjoyable and fun.

To all literature students, they have to believe that studying literature can broad your knowledge in all aspects of life. It will also sharpen your sense, emotion, and feelings. If your life becomes the part of literature, you will see how beautiful this world is.

For the campus, especially library as the source of information and references, the writer suggests to increase the various collections of literature book. So, it will make the student is easier to get more references.
