

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter consists of two sections. They are conclusions and suggestions. The first is conclusions. In conclusions section, the summaries of the research findings are proposed. Then, the second section is suggestions. Several matters suggested are presented in the suggestions section.

A. CONCLUSION

After analyzing the data in previous chapter, it can be concluded that that there are six type of Presupposition that shown in the Novel. Researcher concludes the study In the Zoya novel by Danielle steel there were 16 utterance which were detected as Presupposition. Those utterances classified into six categories those are existential presupposition, factive presupposition, lexical presupposition, structural presupposition, non-factive presupposition, and counter factual presupposition. the writer found that every utterance must have entailment because entailment is based on the form itself.

From 16 utterances were found there are 3 data of existential presupposition, 3 data of factive presupposition, 3 data of lexical presupposition, 3 data of structural presupposition, 3 data of non factive presupposition and 1 data of counter factual presupposition. Writer also classified the Entailment from the utterance that are found in Zoya novel.

The implied meanings in the utterances that are gained by analyzing the context because in pragmatic study, context is essential to figure out the implied meaning. The context of the utterance that are found in Zoya novel gained through four factors. They are (1) the participants, (2) the setting or social context of the interaction, (3) the topic of the utterance made, and (4) the function of the utterance and statement

B. SUGGESTION

After analyzing the data and discussing the result, the writer gives some suggestions to those who might be benefited to the result of this research:

1. For the readers

The writer hopes that this research could be improve the reader's knowledge about presupposition. This is also could be one the reader's reference when study about presupposition. It is also hopes after read this research the readers would be understand if every utterance that produce by people sometimes has implicit meaning that want to send to hearer, so the reader can be communicate well with the others.

2. English Department Students

The researchers hope this research could be one of references in studying presupposition specially to give more understanding about presupposition as one of the part pragmatics study in linguistic field. It is suggested to they who study language or having linguistics as the concentration to understand and study more about pragmatics especially in presupposition because presupposition deals with implied meaning that cannot be understood as easily as literal meaning.

3. The future researcher

This research could be one of the references in studying presupposition and for the other researcher, and the writer hopes that in the future there will be other researchers who will conduct the same topic to complete this research although in different field.

4. English Teacher

The writer hope the English teacher can use this study as the authentic material to teach presupposition.