

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

A. Conclusion

After analyse the data that provided in the previous chapter, the writer has conclusion. Soekarno's struggle in an effort to liberate the nation. Indonesia that the most prominent is creating good character and strong, namely the qualities that basically uphold the principles of ethics and morality, especially virtuous traits, determination, honesty, courage, resilience and resilience. A virtuous nation is a nation that is loyal to its nationality and willing to do as well do the best for the honour and glory of the people. Soekarno had succeeded in building the seeds of character, especially in his struggle. This is a place for the sons and daughters of the nation, especially for students to be more diligent in learning to achieve a noble ideal and to be a useful person for the nation and the nation. The fighting spirit of the Indonesian people continues to blaze to fight for the dignity of the nation in the eyes of the world. The Indonesian people must feel proud and love their nation and country. Pride and love for the nation and the state does not mean having to feel greater and superior to other nations but the most important thing is to develop an attitude of mutual respect, respect and cooperation with other nations. In the history the author sees that Soekarno have a very high sense of nationalism for Indonesia, so the author researching the kind of nationalism embedded in Soekarno for Indonesia.

B. Suggestion

The writer would like to give some suggestion as follows:

1. Through Nationalism of Bung Karno, we are expected to be able answer problems or more precisely cure chronic NKRI diseases, namely collusion.
2. Corruption and nepotism (KKN) and add insight into our Nationality, so that the next generation of the Nation is better prepared to participate for the sake of a more advanced NKRI.
3. Never forget the services of Heroes, because the independence we feel is not something that goes down from the sky but independence was achieved with blood, it was difficult poor, suffering and blessing of the mercy of God Almighty we must guard the power.
