

CHAPTER V

CONCLUSION AND SUGGESTION

This chapter covers conclusion and suggestion. Conclusion describes the points as the result of the research. Furthermore, suggestion states advise proposed by the writer based on research.

A. Conclusion

To All The Boys p.s I Still Love You is the second series from Netflix, this movie is based on a novel by Jenny Han's in 2015 with the same novel title. Then in 2020 this story was made into a film produced by Michel Fimognari and written by Sofia Alvarez and J. Mills Goodloe. This movie series has three parts with different titles. Here the researchers found 20 data which are summarized in the following conclusions:

1. The researcher concludes that the type of love is reflected in the scenes and dialogues in the movies. Researchers found five types of love in accordance with the theory of Erich Fromm which was divided into 20 data. The types of love include erotic love, sibling love, motherly love, self love, and love to God. Of the three types of love, erotic love is the main type of love in this study. Because the researchers found that every scene in the movies the type of erotic love is more prominent. In the percentage of erotic love it has 55 percent of the 11 data found brotherly love has 15 percent of the 3 data found, then for motherly love it has 15% percent of the 3 data found, and Self Love has 15% percent of the 3 data found . As for Love to God, the researcher did not find this data because the movies reflect four types of love.

2. Based on the analysis, the researcher found that the main character, Lara Jean, uses love as a motivation in her relationship. The motivational love that Lara Jean uses is a sense of belonging, love and the fear of losing. However, when Lara Jean felt this, Lara Jean did not realize that the love motivation used seemed greedy and selfish in carrying out the love motivation.

B. Suggestion

Based on the conclusions stated above, the following are suggestions that can be given by the writer based on the research that has been:

1. For researchers, it must be open-minded that the type of love in a relationship must be considered. Because establishing a relationship must be open and nothing should be covered.
2. For the readers, the writer hopes that the results of this research can be useful and can add information to the readers. In addition, it is hoped that it can motivate readers about the type of love that exists in a relationship, because a relationship will not continue to run smoothly there will definitely be problems that every human being does not know when the problems in the relationship come.

3. For researchers, the writer also hopes that this research can help other researchers in the field of literature and other fields, especially in determining the motivation of love in life.
