B. Suggestion

The writer has some suggestions for several parties based on this research. The writer recognizes that this research is not perfect, but the writer hopes that this research can help future researchers who want to conduct similar research. Firstly, for students, investigating and discovering politeness and impoliteness in daily life to be more aware and communicate without using swear words. Furthermore, it is suggested to better understand the use of swearing words and provide understanding of the language.

Secondly, for the sociolinguistics field, developing the reasons for swearing with supporting analysis such as SPEAKING term is recommended to strengthen the argument of what things cause someone to say swear words in a dialog or writing. This study indicates that future researchers investigate swear words from various types of literature or films. It serves as a resource for those interested in the relationship between swear words and society.

Lastly, for general readers who have no expertise of Linguistics, particularly Sociolinguistics, this study might help readers to enrich their knowledge and understand the swear words used in movies in general. They may understand English jokes if they contain swear words. Readers may gain a new vocabulary of swear words they have never heard before. As a result, they should avoid using it when conversing with foreigners to avoid misunderstandings.
